Stainless Steel Motors

Designed for demanding environments, these fully stainless steel assemblies offer excellent corrosion resistance, long service life and reduced maintenance. Their design simplifies cleaning, minimizes contamination risks and ensures maximum equipment uptime through flexible integration.

For Intensive Washdown Areas

Sentinel™ Series

Corrosion-resistant mounted bearing units

Solid food-grade lubrication eliminates maintenance and withstands washdowns. Stainless steel or thermoplastic housings with stainless steel components prevent corrosion caused by moisture and aggressive cleaning agents. All units are available, as required, with open or closed end cover configurations.

Wet / Corrosive zone

S6000 / S6200 Series

Stainless steel bearings combine oxidation resistance, reliability in harsh conditions and compliance with requirements for sensitive production environments.

Standard Applications

6000 / 6200 Series

Deep groove ball bearings designed to provide low friction, high reliability and excellent high-speed performance. Available with seals or shields.

Extreme Conditions

TOPLINE Range

High-performance bearings. Depending on the series, they optimize high-speed performance, reduce energy losses and ensure reliable operation at temperatures ranging from -60°C to 350°C.

Cost Reduction for a Dough Mixer

A pasta manufacturer was experiencing weekly bearing failures caused by frequent washdowns, resulting in over $5,500 in losses per week. Installing Sentinel Series ball bearings resolved the issue.

Results

- Improved uptime value: $276,000
- Reduced purchasing costs: $25,600
- Maintenance reduction: $18,400
- Total annual cost savings: $320,000

$320,000

For Critical Food Zones

Food Safe

Dodge FoodSafe™ products are designed for demanding food processing environments. With smooth stainless steel housings, IP69 sealing and H1 food-grade lubrication, they withstand intensive washdowns, promote optimal hygiene, reduce maintenance and extend equipment life.

For High-Use Dry Areas

Grid-Lign®

Popular for high-speed motors and low-speed gear reducers. Compact with high torque capacity. Easily interchangeable and simple to install.

Para-Flex®

Shock absorption capability, operates even under misalignment. Available in Taper-Lock and QD formats for easy replacement and reduced maintenance.

For wet areas with frequent washing

Ultra Kleen® / EZ Kleen®

Corrosion-resistant. Robust seal prevents grease loss. Reduces maintenance and increases service life.

Cost Reduction in a Poultry Processing Plant

A facility with 1,000 bearings requiring weekly lubrication replaced its existing units with DODGE FoodSafe™ IP69 sealed, permanently lubricated bearings to streamline maintenance operations.

Results

- Estimated annual savings: $111,600
- Complete elimination of lubrication
- Improved overall line reliability
- Extended equipment service life
